HAAY HAQ SAGLA BHUMIPUTRANCHA EAST INDIAN SAMAJALA HAAY MOBAICHA CONCLAVE TRIGGERS MUMBAI BHUMIPUTRA POLICY

Gleason Barretto, Old Kurla

Mumbai is the financial capital of India, but the Indigenous People of this great city have been forgotten and ignored. Successive Central and State Government across parties have not done much to fulfill the basic Indigenous rights of the East Indian Community. Across the world and in some states in India, the Indigenous People have been granted rights which is surely a great sign of recognition and appreciation of those who helped build the region. It's high time we as a community connect with political leaders and authorities to put forth our demands and rights as Indigenous People of this great city.

Over the years, MGP has been organising the Annual Conclave to brainstorm and finalise the best way forward for the Community. We review these Conclave action plans year on year, and last year we released a 5 year plan to create awareness about the Community under the theme, "East Indians RISE" (Revive! Initiate! Serve! Empower!). In the 2nd year 2022, our theme was, "RISE Out of the Box - Differ! Divert! Deviate!" and here our focus was on finding newer ways to achieve our objectives of creating awareness and fulfilling our demands raised to authorities. At the Conclave a point which came out strongly is to draft a Policy for East Indians as the Indigenous People which should be accepted by the Government.

Bhumiputra Policy is the need of the hour and we at MGP have prepared the first draft. The Mumbai Bhumi Putra Policy will be presented to political leaders across parties and various government authorities. Based on the points mentioned in the draft of the Mumbai Bhumi Putra Policy, a detailed document with justifications will be prepared and followed up with the leaders and authorities who show interest and are keen to sanction this policy. Those who fulfil even one point will be appreciated and publicised across all social media platforms. Also, any positive developments will be updated to the Community at large so that they are aware about those who really care for the East Indian Community and need to be supported at various platforms.

Appreciating those who hold East Indian Community as important will be MGP's agenda. All these leaders or authorities will be felicitated and awarded post the fulfilment of demands or the Mumbai Bhumi Putra Policy (MBP). The MBP will be reviewed year on year and released along with the Annual Agenda basis online survey. Experts and professionals within the community will be consulted to sharpen the MBP to make it inclusive and effective. This year's Conclave has taken one big step in a positive direction, and we hope to see some points in the draft policy to be sanctioned or fulfilled. Alternatively, as per our Conclave theme, we at MGP will also look at alternatives to fulfil our demands raised to the Central Government, State Government, Municipality and the Archdiocese.

Indigenous People of MMR region, the East Indian Community needs to RISE up and do what's best to take our community forward. Like minded associations and activists should focus on the issues and work towards resolving them. While on the Culture and Tradition front, the East Indian Community seems to be improving vibrantly year on year. Likewise, we need to see the same in fulfilling our community demands. While celebrations are important on the social scene, we need to see the same interest in civic and community issues. We have the first right in this city and its time we ensure we get it or snatch it if the situation demands. We may request to start with but, if things don't materialise, we may need to protest as needed from time to time. It's time the contribution of our community is remembered and appreciated across the political and religious leadership. MGP has taken the first big step by formulating the Mumbai Bhumi Putra Policy and we look forward to your fervent support and prayers.
